Dear Sharvari,

I am pleased to inform you that the M.S. Admissions Committee was impressed by your application and your academic credentials. As such, we have decided to offer you admission to the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus Master of Science (M.S.) in Pharmaceutical Sciences program for Fall 2020. This offer is made to you pending final approval by the Graduate School after completion of necessary documentation.

As a member of the Fall, 2020 class of the master's program, you will be responsible for your own tuition and fees. While tuition rates have not been finalized for the 2020-2021 academic year, we estimate that tuition will be $750/credit hour for Colorado residents and $1,200/credit hour for non-residents and International students.

We regret that, at present, we are unable to offer any paid, teaching or research assistantships to Master of Science students. Should new funding opportunities become available while you are enrolled, you will be contacted by the Program Director.

Please mark your calendar with the following important dates:

- Monday-Tuesday, August 3-4, 2020 – Skaggs School of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences Research Retreat, Holiday Inn, Aurora, CO
- Thursday, August 20, 2020 – MS Student Orientation Day
- Monday, August 24, 2020 – First Day of Fall Semester

Your first year will be spent participating in courses and departmental seminars as you visit with faculty members to discuss potential research and/or capstone projects. Thesis research will be initiated following the successful completion of a preliminary examination given at the end of the first year. Your primary responsibility after the first year will be completion of elective courses and laboratory thesis research (or a capstone literature review intended for submission to a peer-reviewed scientific journal). To advance to candidacy for the M.S. degree, you will be required to pass a comprehensive examination designed by the faculty in the Pharmaceutical Sciences program.

We welcome and support students with a range of [dis]ability to study at CU Anschutz. Assistant Dean Dr. Shawna Cox is the Graduate School liaison with the Office of Disability Resources and Services; she has significant experience assisting students implement a variety of accommodations and is committed to your success. Remember that you are not obligated to share details about your disability with anyone outside the Office of Disability Resources and Services. If you choose to do so, every effort will be made to protect your privacy. You may also work directly with Ms. Sherry Holden, Coordinator of the Office of Disability Resources and Services. You can call Ms. Holden at (303) 724-5640 or email her at Sherry.Holden@CUAnschutz.edu. Every year, a few students are diagnosed with learning disabilities or test anxiety for the first time because coping mechanisms that worked previously are inadequate for the intense pace of graduate school. Ms. Holden's office can also assist you in getting assessed for the first time. Because assessment and intake can take time, we encourage you to begin this process as soon as possible so that your accommodations are available by the start of class.

Should you choose to join us for graduate studies, it is important that you begin to establish residency in Colorado as soon as possible (with the exception of our International graduate students). You must do more than live here; you must establish a domicile by having a physical presence plus demonstrated intent to make Colorado your permanent home for at least 12 months before the first day of your second year. Demonstrating intent may include but is not limited to obtaining a Colorado driver's license, registering to vote in Colorado, registering your car in Colorado, and paying Colorado state income tax. You must petition for in-state status before the start of your second year. Please visit the CU Anschutz Registrar's Office for further detailed instructions on establishing residency and petitioning for a status change.
<http://www.ucdenver.edu/anschutz/studentresources/Registrar/StudentServices/Residency/Pages/Residency.aspx>

Where you live may be an important part of your decision-making process. As such, there are several resources available to you from the CU Anschutz Campus Student Services office including housing listings, roommate services and information about neighborhoods and their accessibility via different forms of transportation.
<http://www.ucdenver.edu/anschutz/studentresources/student-assistance/housing/Pages/home.aspx>

We sincerely hope you will accept our offer and ask that you give us your decision as soon as possible, but no later than Friday, April 17, 2020. Please let us know your decision in writing via e-mail to David.Kroll@CUAnschutz.edu.

As your matriculation packet is processed upon your acceptance of our offer, it may be the end of May before you receive an e-mail from the Graduate School with your final admission authorization. The packet will also include instructions on matriculation steps, including: submitting official transcripts & test scores; paying a $200 refundable advance registration deposit; completing an online orientation; consenting to and paying ($65) for and passing a background check; and providing immunization records. Completing all of these steps is required for final admission into the Graduate School.

Congratulations on your academic and research accomplishments to date. Our goal in the Pharmaceutical Sciences program is to provide you with the tools and skills that you can utilize to become a successful scientist and scholar. We look forward to your joining us!
