In this journey, all my teachers, HOD, and the Principal were very supportive. They trained us in basic etiquette to advanced skills in every specialized subject, and choosing the kitchen department helped me get knowledge about Indian, Continental, Larder, and International Cuisines, it was all possible because of them, who trusted, motivated, and encouraged me to do the right thing. I am fortunate that I got mentors like them and I am very grateful for my college, who supported and helped me to get through various competitions and interviews and get success in everything. Thank you for showing me the right path.”

TESTIMONIAL DIARIES

Zarina Khan

I attended BVP's - IHMCT from '94 - '97 and I must say that those were some of the most defining three years of my life. Everyone from the teachers to the students were like a part of your extended family and I will always cherish the memories and friends made during my time there. I have learned, whether it is in Housekeeping, F&B or even the kitchen, where I try to spend as little time as possible.

The guidance and knowledge provided to us by all the teachers was of course appreciated but I think what I remember fondly is the 'tough love' that they showed all the students which not only helped mold our characters but has also given us plenty of opportunities to reminisce and have a good laugh when we get together and talk about all the mischief we caused.

I will treasure these memories for a long time, My best wishes to BVP - IHMCT for a very successful future!

PRAFULL N AINA

Executive Chef
The Oberoi Group of Hotels

My love for cooking brought me to BVIHMCT, where I earned my 3yrs of diploma in hotel management, the day I walked in the college the only mantra to success that every faculty, every senior told was.....MAKE YOUR FOUNDATION STRONG...it summarised to dedication, hard work, discipline, desperation for success, respect for your work, others work and the organisation and never ever be or accept something that is mediocre. Three years in the college taught me to value everything I have written in my previous lines. My love for cooking was well received by my faculty and I was always and I mean always supported by them in every way they could possibly do. There was every ounce of effort was put in getting us ready for the industry and nothing was hidden, that grooming in us from BVIHMCT made our entry and success a cake walk in the hotel industry. I started with The Oberoi Udaivilas, udaipur in 2004 ,Now in my new role as a Executive Chef and a Deputy General Manager respectively the learning has still not stopped and the fire to grow is still burning.

So to summarise my whole carrier I give credit to my faculty in BVIHMCT who inculcated all these qualities in me and changed my approach to the hotels and molded me for the success in commercial kitchens. My foundation and basics for my whole carrier were made super strong in the college and I was, I am and I always will be thankful to my college and my faculty. What BVDUIHMCT taught me: I am grateful for the wonderful professors and the principal.

They provided me with constant motivation and support to develop a successful career. When I graduated, it was almost unheard for a "girl from Pune" to join an international airline.

No success comes without hard work, dedication and sacrifice but BVDUIHMCT gave me the confidence to enter the service industry. My three years in college were wonderful
