World Elderly Day is a special day for senior citizens across the world. On this occasion we raise awareness of the value of senior citizens in our life and appreciate their contributions towards our society and community.

Department of Medical Surgical Nursing of Bharati Vidyapeeth (Deemed to be University), College of Nursing, Pune celebrated the International day for the Elderly on 25th October, 2023. As a part of the celebration, the students of F.Y Msc Nursing and T.Y.Bsc Nursing visited an old age home and raised awareness regarding problems faced by the elderly and preventive measures that need to be taken for their health. The visit took place under the guidance and supervision of Mrs. Shubhangi Gaikwad and Mrs. Sneha Sankpal.

The objectives of the visit were:

- To learn about the administrative and physical set up of the institution
- To get to know about the admission and discharge procedure
- To know the problems and care of the old age people
- To know about rehabilitation and counselling
- To know about the geriatric health care

The students had prepared charts and flash cards to address the problems faced by the elderly and discussed each problem with the residents of the old age home. Some of the topics addressed were: Cataract, Blood Pressure, Diabetes and Mental disorders related to old age. The residents actively participated in the session and cleared many of their doubts regarding health and diseases. After the session we all were humbly welcomed to see their rooms and understand their lifestyle in the old age home.
