

BHARATI VIDYAPEETH (DEEMED TO BE UNIVERSITY)

COLLEGE OF NURSING, SANGLI

Report on Value added talk

On 04/10/2025 Saturday the college held a talk on sympathy VS empathy to B.sc Nursing students of first year, second year and third year after the pledge. The talk was delivered by Mrs.Shaila Mathew Asst. Professor at the auditorium of Bharti Vidyapeeth (Deemed to be University) College of Nursing, Sangli. The aim of the talk was to highlight the necessity of dealing with these emotions, particularly empathy and it's usefulness in the nursing profession. As future healthcare providers, nursing students are expected to build meaningful connections with patients, which require more than just clinical skills-they must also possess emotional intelligence and the ability to relate to others. The talk was additionally prescient as students nowadays are bought up online on the phone in a very disconnected world, which was evident in the reception received for the talk in terms of the attentiveness of students. The students realized the importance of empathy over sympathy or simply putting one in another's shoes to understand their situation better. The talk was concluded with a quote by Allice Muller : empathy increases with learning.
