

Faculty description

Name: Ar. Neha Joshi

Qualification: M.Arch. (Environmental Architecture)

Designation: Assistant Professor

Department: M. Arch, BVDU College Of Architecture, Pune 43

Involvement: As Core faculty

Areas of expertise: Environmental Architecture, Architectural Design, Interior Design, Building Simulation, Research.

Teaching profile (subjects): Energy conservation, Building simulation, Research in Architecture, Building services.

Email: neha.joshi1@bharaitvidyapeeth.edu

Brief Biography:

Started the academic journey as an Assistant Professor at Dr. B. N. College of Architecture in 2012. Received the initial University Approval in October 2016, valid until April 2017, followed by permanent approval in 2018. During the tenure at BNCA, actively contributed to the International Cell and Alumni Cell.

In 2023, with the intent of exploring professional practice and staying updated with current trends in the architectural field. Subsequently collaborated with a colleague in an architectural practice specializing in green building solutions.

Worked as Visiting Faculty at various architecture colleges in Mumbai, including CTES College, Chembur, and Amity University. Also associated with Bharati Vidyapeeth College of Architecture, Navi Mumbai, as a faculty member. Alongside teaching, currently undertaking freelance Architectural and Interior Design projects and working as a Daylight Consultant for Green Building Rating systems in India. Pursuing a PhD with a research focus on De-Carbonization in the built Environment.

Key Competencies:

“Sustainable Design Thinking, Architectural & Environmental Design, Critical Thinking, Research & Analytical Skills, Communication, Academic Mentoring, Project Management, Organizational Skills, and Leadership Qualities.”

Professional profile:

Green Building consultant – IGBC GRIHA ECBC LCA

Freelancing – Architecture, Green Building certification, Interior Design

Academic Profile: 10 years of teaching experience.