Impact of the program/ activity/event:

- Enhanced Understanding of Core Life Skills: By researching and designing posters on topics like self-awareness and coping with stress, students deeply internalized crucial adolescent life skills and emotional regulation techniques.

- Promotion of Creative Problem-Solving: The competition encouraged students to think outside the box, allowing them to translate complex psychological and social concepts into visually engaging and easily understandable messages.

- Improved Communication and Health Advocacy: Showcasing their work helped students refine their ability to advocate for mental health and effectively communicate essential wellness topics—a vital skill for their future roles as healthcare professionals.

- Boosted Confidence and Peer Collaboration: The enthusiastic participation and group success (as seen with the winning teams) fostered a strong sense of teamwork, built confidence in their academic abilities, and encouraged healthy peer learning.
