

Faculty description – Aftab Lokhandwala

Name: Ar. Aftab Lokhandwala

Qualification: B. Arch, M. Arch. (Architectural History and Theory) CEPT

Designation: Assistant Professor

Department: B.Arch.

Involvement: Core Faculty

Areas of expertise: Architectural design, History, Historiography, Heritage and culture, Sociology, Architectural writing and research.

Teaching profile (subjects): Architectural Design, History of Architecture, Architectural Journalism, Computer Applications

Email: aftab.lokhandwala@bharatividyaeeeth.edu, afl@bvcoa.in

Kommentar [AL1]: Not sure if this Email ID works, will check once.

Brief Biography: Completed Graduation in Architecture from Allana College of Architecture, Pune and post-graduation in Architectural History and Theory from CEPT University, Ahmedabad. He has been working with BVDUCOA for the last 1 year and has worked previously with BNCA for 2 years. Organized and collaborated with guest lectures and workshops for students and faculty. Currently part of the Nature Club, the Heritage Club, and Poetry Club at BVDUCOA.

Key Competencies: Teaching, Communication, History, Writing.

Professional profile: Handled various residential and commercial interior and Management projects as an architect. Worked on residential architectural design primarily focusing on bungalows and apartment complexes with DCON Architects and Axis LLP. Worked on documentation and research on Mandvi ni Pol Ahmedabad and the Hill Forts of Sahyadri as part of Masters program at CEPT.

Academic Profile: 2 years Visiting Faculty experience.

Hobbies: Poetry and writing, badminton, sketching and art, reading, fitness and nutrition.